Happenings of Interest from Different Sections.

There are 16 cases of influenza among admitted for a time.

Amos Wissell dropped dead at his boarding house in Warren a few nights ago after working all day and apparently being in his usual health.

A big black bear trotted through the BUTTER VERY FIRMstreets of Marlboro a few days ago, but succeeded in going through a swamp and over the hills out of sight before its delayed pursuers could come up with it.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy W. Eason observed the 50th anniversary of their marriage at their home in Brattleboro Dec. Mr. Eason is a veteran of the Civil war and a retired nurse. His wife is prominent in the Woman's Relief corps.

Only one Vermonter is mentioned the names of New England wounded who were brought overseas to Camp Devens, arriving Monday and Tues-He is Pvt. Francis W. Maley of H company, 102d infantry, Fair Haven.

Stowe's second outbreak of influenza threatens to become serious. Already there have been four deaths from pneumonia, with a number of cases that are critical. In Huntington, also, the influenza has developed rapidly in the past few days, whole families being ill.

Vermont's Christmas tree crop is much smaller than in former years, owing principally to the difficulty of obtaining adequate shipping facilities. In consequence many evergreens on the hillside are left to thrive, if only for another year.

Parents of Otto Woehr in Burlington, who received word from the war departbeen killed in action, received another telegram Saturday from Washington, stating that the first information was 54(6)54/6c.

Pvt. Horace Lessier of Manchester, N. H., who admitted he left Camp Devens May 25 on a forged pass and had been wandering about ever since, was arrested in Bellows Falls last week and returned to the camp on the charge of being absent without leave.

While on his way to church in South Franklin Sunday, S. B. Whitney was thrown from his sleigh and dragged. He suffered a compound fracture of one hip, a severe gash on the back of his head. two broken ribs, and bad bruises on his shoulder. The horses became frightened when something on the sleigh broke.

Although word has been received from the war department by Mrs. Burton Burroughs of Morrisville of the death of her son, Eugene Burroughs of the 102d machine gun battalion, on Oct. 30, news has come through a comrade of her son written Nov. 7, saying that Burroughs was to be worth 14@15 cents. For the first time in the history of the city, Rutland is importing ice for home consumption. The supply harvested last winter is entirely exhausted and as almost every town along the Rutland railroad has such reduced quantities it is S. S. Ballard, general agent, Rialto block, difficult to secure a supply. The shortage is thought to be due to the fact that labor shortage and very heavy ice caused some of the smaller companies to house a short supply last winter.

A training school for the sons of soldiers of the great war is to be estab lished in Bennington, Edward H. Everett having purchased two farms, including about 340 acres, and the school having been incorporated under the laws of Vermont with the name, Green Mountain Home, Inc. The purpose of the home is to furnish practical instruction along academic lines, as well as training in horticulture and agriculture, and boys as young as ten years may enter. Mr. Everett's daughter is the wife of an officer in the Italian army.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause-Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment - clogged liver and disordered bowels. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor,

Shaw, Ph. D., has returned from Boston lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or where last week he attended the Boston energy, troubled with undigested foods, Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a WAR SCRAPBOOK.

Complete Newspaper Record Being Made for Princeton; 127 Volumes Ready.

The most recent acquisition of the library of Princeton university is a set of scrapbooks. It is incomplete, being still in the making, and cannot, in the nature patients at the Vermont sanatorium in Pittsford and no more patients will be Fresh Eggs Now Are Easier of things, be finished until after the end of the war. When complete it will be monumental.

city and chairman of the Liberty loan

At the beginning of the war Governor Strong conceived the purpose of compil-ing the work, though he failed at first to realize its magnitude. The design is that it shall be a new constant of the design is that it shall be a newspaper history of the war, as complete as it is possible to make it, from the outbreak, July-August, 1914, to the end.

The original plan was in order to assure the completeness of the work to preserve all matter pertaining to the war that should appear in The Sun, The Times, the Evening Post and the Evening Mail. Afterwards the Evening Mail was dropped from the list.

The Sun, Times and Evening Post, sure the perfection and entirety of the work. When it is considered that everything pertaining to the subject that appears in these three papers is preserved irritation, thus ending bladder weak-in these scrapbooks the magnitude of ness. the job can be appreci ted. Not only the war dispatches, but all cognate matter-editorial comment, local news, even stock quotations, when they are directly affected by war news-is kept.

It is small wonder that the work soon outgrew the ability to cope with it of the staff of amateur workers whom Governor Strong first engaged, so that after a time he placed it in the hands of Charles S. Hemstreet, under whose supervision it is now going on. The details are enormous, but they are of the kind to which his staff are accustomed, and it to which his stail are accustomed, and it is going smoothly.

Up to date, 127 volumes have been finished and forwarded to Princeton, where they are placed in the library of the university, available for daily use.

Each one of these volumes is a royal quota of 400 pages, plainly but substantially bound in buckram, each volume SATURDAY, DEC. 14, 1918 representing a cost of production approximating $100, and each page repre senting an amount of skilled labor only to be understood by those who have undertaken the keeping of newspaper scraps on a large scale.

These pages are 13x15 inches in size, ville, the following personal property: neatly bordered with thin red lines. The paper is of superior quality, costing with the printed borders more than $18 a ream, a ream making five volumes.

Each page has four full columns of dippings, the selection and placing of which requires the work of a dozen op- and good size; 9 head of young stock, eratives. First, the newspapers as they are received go to the readers, who mark each item that is to be preserved. Then they go to the cutters and the clippings sorters, and finally to the pasters. Paste is bought in 50-pound tins, 10 tins at a time.
